

Utah County Employee of the Month for September 2011

Kirt Gurney - Carpenter

Public Works

During Kirt's 17 years working for Utah County, he has contributed to hundreds, if not thousands of projects. Anything from footstools, to coat hooks in almost every office, to pouring concrete at the mountaintop sites and building new courtrooms in the Health and Justice building. Not to mention the many bookshelves, cabinets, office remodels, cork boards and tables used throughout the county. He always has positive input to make our projects a success and has ideas and suggestions to save the taxpayer both time and money. He also fills in as a backup lock and door specialist when others assigned to those duties are not available. His work and dedication behind the scenes often go unnoticed, but it is comforting to know that when Kirt is on the job, it comes to a successful completion. He is definitely a team member and contributes to the success of our Buildings and Grounds division.

I would like to nominate Kirt Gurney. He works for Public works in the carpenter shop. He has worked for the county now going on 17 years and he has worked on some very noticeable projects that I know people really like and love but he has never been recognized for his work this would be a real honor to him. Please give him heavy consideration for the employee of the month.

Nominated by Gary Schwartz and Cory Nostrom
